Our correspondent reports on last week's debate

Ian Marks, John Strong and Jan Hill were perceptive, analytical, impartial adjudicators and the 'people's choice vote' result counted ably by Sean and Jack agreed with them. Robert Alford was the best prepared, Berndt the most serious and Joe the wittiest on the winning team, (all using Veronika's prepared notes!)

Ros Michaelson was a charming, natural debater, Sam Binstock was serious, convincing and thoughtful but David Bendel was the only one on his team who actually argued a case for the negative – the brilliance of school teachers! (No surprise as to our correspondent's vocation! – Ed.)

Our great orators

Marian's Secret Passion

Whilst we all know that Marian Dimand is a closet fan of Dancing With the Stars (even missing the odd Rotary meeting to watch!!), her real passion is her family, including husband, handyman and fellow Rotarian Jack.
