Last Week's meeting:

Our Speaker last week was all about amateur theatre. John Shelbourn has the appearance of an aging matinee idol but established himself as very much a back scenes man in the theatre world. For we theatre goers he was able to introduce us to the world of play selection, appointment of directors, casting auditions, set design and production, lighting, sound and front of house. How could we have known how multiple exits and entrances become such an issue?.

Non-professional theatre (where no-one gets paid) is alive and well in Melbourne. John gave us a great insight into the dedication of so many people in presenting it to us so brilliantly.

John also described the thought processes in how play selections are made and how to think about a whole season of theatre than just one particular play. His non professional world is open to all comers. Any person can audition. Usually there are three practices pw 7pm-10pm.

Sgt Session: Max was ruthless and the Editor's spies confirms that one member did indeed win a trip for two to Europe, the VRC still winning the race. For those naughty to Geoff A. He's back!

This Week's Speaker:

Harry Plafadelis: London Tavern

We all know Harry Plafadelis, our caring Duty Manager at the London Tavern. But did we know his surname? Tonight he is going to tell us a lot about our venue, history, workings, challenges – the lot. We will hear how he has progressed from a twenty year career as a Mechanic, before moving to the Hospitality industry via working in a family business.
